Teacher—Knowing the curvature of the earth and the distance across Lake Michigan, how would you calculate how far below the horizon a city on the eastern shore, directly opposite, would appear to an observer on this side? Solon Faced Pupils—I ain't on to Lake Michigan's curves, ma'am, but I think it'd be out of sight.—Chicago Tribune.

FOLEY KIDNEY PILLS.

Are tonic in action, quick in results. A special medicine for all kidney and bladder disorders. Mary C. Abbott, Wolfeboro, N. H., says: "I was afflicted with a bad case of rheumatism, due to uric acid that my kidneys failed to clear out of my blood. I was so lame in my feet, joints, and back that it was agony for me to step. I used Foley Kidney Pills for three days when I was able to get up and move about and the pains were all gone. This great change in condition I owe to Foley Kidney Pills and recommend them to anyone suffering as I have."—Cop-operative Drug Co.

Scene from "Silver Threads."

SILVER THREADS

The following is the exact criticism written by A. T. Thiele, dramatic editor of the Dayton, O., Journal on March 11, 1910.

"Silver Threads" is the title of a very beautiful play in four acts, which opened an engagement at the National Thursday afternoon. The play and the players presenting it proved a happy surprise to the playgoers and everyone was delighted and charmed with the story, and the telling of it. In fact, but few plays of the season have received so much genuine praise from people attending as did "Silver Threads," following the performance on Thursday afternoon. It is one of the best plays that the national has offered this season, and there were many good plays presented at that popular playhouse during the winter. "Silver Threads" is just a bit reminiscent of "Hazel Kirke," that stirring stage story which older theatregoers will remember as presented by Effie Elster with such tremendous success. "Silver Threads" is replete with heart interest and from the very first takes hold of the audience with compelling force and holds the close attention until the final curtain. The speech of Ruth Laurie to her father in the third act is quite thrilling and one of the very fine features of the entire play. Another charming feature is the singing of the old songs by Richard J. Jose the well known contra tenor who has been heard in minstrelsy for years and whose voice is as attractive as ever. His singing of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "Daddy," and "Abide With Me," were very effective and aroused great enthusiasm. The company presenting this play is an exceptionally good one and the play is artistically presented. The company includes Miss Louis Kent, an actress of much ability, who plays the part of "Ruth Laurie," Richard Jose, Leslie Stowe, Eva Condon, Edith M. Cook, John A. Miesen, Hobart Cavanaugh, W. D. Stone, Mort Weinstein and others.

"Silver Threads" will be the attraction at the Thatcher Opera House on January 10th, and those who enjoy a charmingly told and interesting stage story need not miss this play.
